-BIO-

Daniel Dominguez is a Stand-Up comedian/ screenwriter out of Los Angeles, California. He is one of the most respected young comics to come out of Los Angeles in several years. Having established himself early by winning First Place at the Improv Olympic Comedy Competition Last year, and been nominated for best new stand up comedian at the California Open Mic competition the year before, Dan Dominguez recently got back from a three week stint doing 20 minute sets opening for a national headlining comic from northwest all the way down to Wyoming.

Daniel Dominguez has been featured in the Verizon Cell Phone Network on their Viva Vision! Comedy Channel, which can be seen all over the United States, and in many countries in South America. Dan has opened for Margaret Cho and Damon Wayans at comedy clubs out in Los Angeles, and has performed at colleges through the western side of the country. His popular Friday stand up show (soon to be webcast live at www.garagecomedy.com, starting March 28th) is one of the top alternative comedy shows in Los Angeles, attracting the likes of Brody Stevens, Marc Maron, Hard N' Phirm, and many other top comedy talents.

Daniel Dominguez is also a working screenwriter, and is in the middle of shooting a pilot called "Supplementary Income Warrior" for Secret Handshake productions, to take to the Cartoon Network's Adult Swim. He recently finished rewriting a screenplay with Robert McCrea (Find Me Guilty, starring Vin Diesel), and is scheduled to perform at the next Downtown Los Angeles Comedy Festival.

His popular Webisode series "My Nudity Video Blog" has spun off in several directions, receives between 30,000 and 90,000 hits and episode, and has been picked up to be featured on Michael Eisner's Veoh.com starting in April.

Daniel Dominguez's unusual, edgy, intelligent comedy is fast paced, highly opinionated, and relentless. He moves and thinks quickly, and his hardcore approach to comedy has won over bar audiences, club audiences, and college audiences alike.
